Best Practice I:

Title of the practice: Extension of social and communal activities by NSS and sensitization of students to social issues for integrated development of society.

Objective of the practice: The College encourages to form a well-interwoven institution – society network via student's participation. To become responsible citizen of society the NSS department helps and promotes students to undergo specific training. The NSS department of college took effort to engage staff and students to in various service centric programmes. The Jaysingpur College situated at centre of many small village and it will become an opportunity which is accepted by the college to undertake service activities in the nearby villages. The collection of socioeconomic information is done via survey by the students to point out the exact problems and needs of the local people. The programmes are arranged on the basis of data collected to furnish solution to various issues such as agricultural, educational, socio-medical and health etc.

Goals of this activity are summarised as:

➤ To provide more relevant education to the present situation to meet the needs of the community and encourage college students by arranging rural situation centric programs.

➤ To expand the students understanding and learning prospects beyond the syllabi, curriculum through hands on experiences with the community at large.

➤ To promote confidence through building activities, socialization skills and to understand cultural heritage.

The context: In present-day society, the students are highly unfamiliar about the issues and problems of the society where they live. Therefore, it is realized that the student must be sensitized and must be taught about the society and this can be done through extension activities such as NSS.

The practice: The established NSS department of college is going to arrange various programs through active participation of students and staff during the whole year. The events, camps, guest lectures are arranged and planed according to instructions of Programme officer and principal of college.

Evidence of success: NSS event index and short report along with photographs are attached.

Problems encountered and resources generated:

Fund mobilization and arrangement of proper facility to all NSS students and volunteer is tedious in some case. Both issues are discussed before event and managed by respective persons.
